LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP.

From the excitement prevailing at this point over the telephone situation, I fear all those taking part do not understand, and properly consider the motive of the small increase, which at this exchange only affects residence telephones where the rate is less than $1.50 per month. The undersigned will be at Millersburg within the next ten days to personally explain why the change is being made.

We understand and appreciate the fact that our Millersburg patrons do not object to enjoying the same good service that is rendered elsewhere in Bourbon county, therefore we cannot feel that we have attempted to deal with our Millersburg friends in any way except in a spirit of fairness.

The company I represent does not boast of rendering cheap service, but does claim to render reliable service at reasonable rates, and if you are a business man you must admit that most everything in way of material, both wood and metal, is a great deal more expensive now than a year or so ago. Then take the labor question, perhaps the farmers will better appreciate this as they are in close touch with this question. Skillful labor comes still higher.

These are only a few of the reasons why we claim that the service rendered during the year 1906 was so rendered at less than cost.

I am yours sincerely,
J. J. VEATCH,
Manager East Tenn. Telephone Co.

A Tale With a Moral.

Once upon a time there lived a beautiful Princess in an elegant castle, surrounded by a large forest. Her father, the king, was known far and wide for his wisdom, and pilgrimages were daily made to the castle by the people to listen to his words of wisdom. The exceeding rare beauty of the Princess was known even to the remote parts of the kingdom, and as a consequence her hand in marriage was much sought after by the Princes of the realm. Her father, the wise king, was much perplexed as to whom to entrust his daughter's happiness, as the applicants were all worthy and desirable son-in-laws. He finally had it proclaimed throughout the kingdom that the hand of the beautiful Princess, together with a large dowry, would be given to the one who best answered the question, "What is the worst thing in the world?"

At the time appointed for the contest a score of young Princes, each brave and handsome, had assembled at the castle and were ushered into the royal presence. Lots were drawn as to which one should have the first chance. It fell to a dashing young Prince, to whom it was said the young princess looked with much favor upon. With bashful mien and trembling limbs he made his obeisance to the Princess and then knelt before his sovereign.

"Well, sir," said the wise monarch, "What is your answer to the question? 'What is the worst thing in the world?'" Amid deep silence the young man, after receiving an encouraging look from the Princess, replied:

"The Paris Electric Light Plant, oh gracious sire."

With mutterings of disappointment over their hard luck, the remainder of the young men immediately withdrew, as they were wise enough to see their chances of winning the Princess were gone.

The king, after placing a crown upon the head of the young man, exclaimed: "Gladly do I give you the hand of my daughter, and in addition do I make thee chief of my wise men. Thy wisdom surpasses all understanding."

And they were married and lived happily ever after.

An Honest and Impartial Republican.

The retirement of Secretary Hitchcock from the Cabinet is a real loss to his countrymen. He is the only member of the Administration that has accomplished real results in his Department that are worth talking about. He has not blustered but has pretty effectually cleared out the land thieves and punished them without fear or favor. Republican United States Senators and Congressmen that were mixed up with the land grafters were not shielded but prosecuted with as much vigor as the lesser grafters and as this is the first time in the history of the Republican party of a Cabinet officer being impervious to party pressure and impartial in punishing and preventing fraud, Ethan Hitchcock is entitled to the thanks of Democrats, the more so, as so many of his party are secretly denouncing and backbiting him. It is too bad that similar good deeds cannot be recorded of any other member of the official family of President Roosevelt.

The Legal Boss.

The Republican party through Secretary Bonaparte has at last invented a reform that no other party has prior claim to and that no other party will probably care to claim. This Bonaparte invention may be styled "the legal boss," for the fantastic idea is, "that the people should have legally constituted bosses to make all the nominations for public offices and thus do away entirely with nominating conventions." No one but a Republican boss, or would be boss, could invent such a scheme of licensing the boss system. Democrats are intent on self-government and are determined that the people must govern the bosses and not the bosses the people. But in the Republican breast there ever seems to dwell the lingering hereditary hope, descended from Hamilton, that the few, or for that matter the one, shall rule and dictate to many. If the voters are capable of electing a boss, they are certainly capable of nominating and electing their public officials, otherwise universal suffrage is a failure and like he Hebrews of old, a King is the only natural boss that the people will elect.

The fact is the Republican leaders see trouble brewing for them in the near future, for the people are awakening to the fact that their only salvation is to abolish losses, with the certain corruption and grafting that stalk in their train as Republicanism means the rule of bosses as Democracy means the rule of the people, the Republican leaders would legalize the political machine they have set up, in hopes of preventing the break down they see is approaching.

Merely Idle Talk.

The Republicans are now beginning to figure on who they can sacrifice as a candidate for their party for Governor next year. A lot of talk from them can be seen in another column of this issue. Judge Harlan, of the Supreme Court bench, will probably be asked to resign from his present high position to make the race. Democrats are not at all worried about who they will place upon the altar, Judge Harlan or any of the big guns, for when the Democratic nominee, Judge Hager, gets through with them they will be little guns. It would be a pity to have Judge Harlan to end his successful political life by a crushing defeat in his native State. The defeat is surely waiting for the big Judge if he allows himself to be talked into running for Governor on the Republican ticket in Kentucky. It is only idle talk about them even having a shadow of a chance to win next year.

The Pure Food Law.

The Republicans claim the credit for the Pure Food Law, but the Republican Congress made no appropriation for carrying the law into effect. The majority of the Republican members of Congress have little sympathy with the law and tried before they passed it to weaken it at every point. When it comes to voting the appropriation or $1,000,000 which Secretary Wilson says is necessary to carry out the provisions of the law, we shall see how much influence has been exerted by such opponents as the patent medicine people and other interests that are interfered with. The law goes into effect on January 1st, but until provision is made for its enforcement, it will be virtually a dead letter.

Easy Times in Wisconsin.

Looks like easy times in Wisconsin this year. No state tax was levied there and her school tax is only one-twentieth of a cent. War claims of million dollars, railroad back taxes, and a corporation tax renders a State tax unnecessary.

Cure For Nervousness.

A Swiss doctor has discovered has discovered that tea made with melted snow is a cure for nervous diseases. The doctor declares that he has cured people with this elixir when all other remedies have failed. He melts the snow over a slow fire, and then boils the water.

Hearst's Last Race.

William R. Hearst, recently Democratic candidate for Governor of New York, was at San Antonio, Tex., Saturday, on his way with members of his family, to Monterey, where he has mining interests. In discussing what his future course will be in reference to politics in New York, he said:

"I will never again be a candidate. I shall continue to reside in New York and advocate and support the principles of reform which I have already stood for, but these principles are now sufficiently understood by the general public for it to be no longer necessary for me to be a candidate."

"You probably know it is by no means pleasant to be a candidate. I am glad in the future it is my privilege to stand for the principles of government I have always advocated, without being a candidate for office, and on that account attacked with such bitterness."

Expected a Letter.

"I've 'spectin' a letter, sah," he said as he entered the postoffice and braced up to the general delivery window. "Where from?" queried the clerk.

"Can't 'actly say, sah, but I reckon he'll write."

"Is it a very important letter?"

"It is so very important, sah, dat blood will probably flow like water in consequence of it. It will be a letter from de Hon. Samuel Green, sah, and it will be directed to de Hon. Tony Brown, sah, and in dat letter he Hon. Sam will call me a liar and a willian."

"He will, eh? And on your part, you will—"

"I shall remark de cognizance of de same, sah, and I shall perceptively slip a razor into my pocket and luxuriantly stroll around town until I met de gemman referred to."

"And then?"

"Den, sah, I shall gin him de opportunity to render an abject apology, and if he refuses to do it de grim hand of de fell destroyer will reach out and moshun dis way and moshun dat way, and de Hon. Sam Green will be gathered to his fadders, and dis world of turmoil will know him no mo' forever."

Where Did He Come From?

Archbishop Ryan was once accosted on the streets of Baltimore by a man who knew the Archbishop's face, but could not quite place it.

"Now, where in hell have I seen you?" he asked perplexedly.

"From where in hell do you come, sir?"

A Sam Jones Story.

The best of all stories ever told by Sam Jones was that which brought him to a clear understanding with his wife the morning after they were married. He told it in a sermon, off-hand, and had every eye in the congregation moist. There had been a great deal of strife in some households, spats between husbands and wives, separations, divorces and other troubles. Sam said:

"I'm goin' to try to stop it. It's all nonsense. Maybe I can't get at you old fellows who have been nagging at your wives for many years, and been nagged back till you have lost your manhood; but I'm goin' to say something for the young married folks and those who contemplate matrimony."

"You all recollect when me and Mrs. Jones got married. Most of you veterans were there that night and ate of the wedding supper. We all had a good time. We stayed up late. The young folks danced and we looked on. By and by the midnight hour sent you all home, and Mrs. Jones and I went to bed. When I woke up next morning there she was, sleeping like an angel, along side of me. She was beautiful to look upon as you all know. She's beautiful yet, God bless her! Beautiful in her love for me and our children, beautiful in her domesticity, beautiful in character. To have such a wife is a pinnacle of hope, the summit of happiness. To think of her is to praise God!"

I awoke her with a kiss and said: "Mary, what is all that white stuff on the rocking chair? I never saw it before."

"Why, Sam, it's my clothes," she replied, with a lovely blush. Then I pointed to another chair and said: "And, Mary, what are those things? They have a familiar look." She answered:

"Why, Sam, dear, those are your breeches. Why, do you ask such silly questions?"

"Because, Mary, I want to have a plain, clear, frank understanding with you. We have agreed to travel the long road of life side by side. There will be things for you to do and things for me to do. Let us make up our minds there shall be no conflicts on the journey. There are your laces and rickracks; there are my breeches. Mary, I want to ask you which you intend to wear during our life, the laces and the rickracks, or the breeches. She didn't hesitate a moment, but said: "Sam, you wear the breeches; I'll stick to the laces and rickracks."

Kentucky Crop Report.

We take the following Kentucky crop report as issued from Commissioner Vreeland's office, at Frankfort, November 15, 1906:

The wet weather prevailing in September continued until the first week in October, and wheat seeding and corn gathering were prevented. Since then the weather has been favorable and this work has proceeded without interruption. The average of wheat sown will be short, being 89 per cent. compared to 1905. That which was sown early is coming up nicely and with favorable conditions a good stand is indicated.

The corn yield will be large, being rated at 102 per cent compared to 1905, which was also a large yield. Corn is damaged from the wet weather and lack of sunshine, maturing badly, and at least 20 per cent. of the crop will be unmerchantable.

Winter Oats: The acreage will be short on this crop, being 80 per cent. compared with 1905.

Acreage on rye and barley about up to an average.

In the Burley District, as also the Dark District, no improvement is shown in condition of the tobacco crop. A severe freeze occurred on October 10th and found much tobacco uncut in the field, which was a total loss. The damage on burley from various causes is estimated at 24 per cent., and the estimated yield is 56 per cent.

In the Dark District, reports indicate that the crop is 20 per cent. and the percentage of yield is 88 per cent. A large percentage of the tobacco crop will be of poor quality.

Meadows and pastures are good and live stock in fine condition. Very little disease exists among stock. Mules are high and in good demand. Labor very scarce in all sections.

The Official Count.

The Democratic State Executive Committee met at Frankfort Tuesday and canvassed the returns from the primary for State officers and United States Senator held November 6. The official count makes slight changes in the majority of several of the candidates, but no change is made in the results as already announced.

Governor Beckham's majority over McCreary for Senator has grown to 11,117, while Hager's majority over Hays for Governor, which was believed to be over 37,000, has been reduced to 30,882. Hendrick's majority over Carter for Attorney General is 33,551. Winfrey's majority over Gullion for Superintendent of Public Instruction is 5,57, while Newman beat Crenshaw for Agricultural Commissioner, 5,320.

The largest vote was cast in the Senatorial race, the high water mark of 154,081 being reached. The vote in the gubernatorial contest, the next highest, was over 100,000 less. The returns show that Governor Beckham carried seven out of the eleven congressional districts of the State, carrying the First, Third, Fourth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh. In the gubernatorial contest Hager lost only the Fifth and Sixth Districts.

The report of the finance committee, as presented by Secretary Mott Ayres, showed that the primary had been conducted for the sum of $2,00,23, leaving a balance of $3,34,62 to be refunded to the candidates pro rata, according to their assessments. Of this $500 will be retained to pay off any bills which may still be out.

Notice to Members of Burley Tobacco Society.

By the authority vested in me as Chairman of the initial meeting of the Burley Tobacco Society, by the Constitution of said Society (Art. Sec. 1) and in accordance with its provision, I hereby call the first meeting of the members of the Society for the purpose of electing precinct representatives of the County Board. All members who have pledged their tobacco to the Society are instructed to meet at the usual place of voting in their respective precincts at 2 o'clock, Friday, November 30th, and to select their representative on the County Board. Further, the representatives so selected are instructed to meet in their respective county seats at 2 o'clock, Saturday, December 1st, and select their representatives on the District Board. And furthermore, the members of the District Board thus elected are instructed to meet at 2 o'clock in the office of the Society at Winchester, Kentucky, to organize as the District Board, and to select the General Manager, and to take charge of the affairs of the Society. The precinct meetings shall be organized by the selection of a temporary chairman and secretary, and the meeting shall proceed at once to the election of a representative on the County Board, whose election to the County Board shall be certified by the temporary secretary.

The County Board shall be organized by the selection of a temporary chairman and secretary, and shall proceed at once to the election of a permanent county chairman and permanent secretary. The secretary shall certify the election of the chairman, which certificate shall constitute his credentials as member of the District Board.

Done this 20th day of November, 1906, at Winchester, Ky.
 (Signed) C. M. HANNA, Chairman.
 H. E. SWAIN, Secretary.

Want Justice Harlan to Run.

A telegram from Frankfort, Ky., to the Courier-Journal says:

Dispatches from Owensboro to the effect that the Hon. E. T. Franks, the Second district Republican leader, would see the nomination of his party for the governorship next year has set Republican politicians here to gossiping, and developed that Mr. Franks will find opposition for the honor of heading the Republican ticket for State offices next year.

A well-known Republican here, who spends much of his time out in the State and who is close to the leaders of the party, says that within the last few days, since the Democratic nominations have been made, a movement has been set on foot to induce Justice John M. Harlan, of the United States Supreme Court, to return to his old home and round out his public career by leading a fight of his party. It is said that the matter has been discussed with John W. Yerkes at Washington, and that it will be taken up with President Roosevelt during the next few weeks, with the idea of preventing a "machine-made" nomination in Kentucky. Judge Harlan, this Republican says, has been talked with upon the subject, and that, while he did not give assent to the proposition at once, he seemed pleased with the idea. Judge Harlan's name was mentioned some time ago, and attracted much favorable comment from Republican leaders in different sections of the State.

Others who are mentioned by Republicans here are Judge Edward C. O'Rear, of Montgomery county, member of the Court of Appeals; former Judge A. R. Burnam, of Madison county, and State Senator William H. Cox, of Maysville. It is said here that fully 60 per cent. of the Republican voters out in the State favor the candidacy of Judge O'Rear, but that he is not inclined to make the race. He likes the judicial work in which he is engaged, and aspires to go to higher place upon the bench.

Judge Burnam would, it is thought, look favorably into the matter if a boom should be started for him, and would have considered following to start with. He is said to be favored by several influential Federal officeholders.

Senator Cox may be expected to announce early in the new year for a place on the State ticket. He would like to be the nominee for Governor, but would accept the post of Lieutenant Governor, for which he thinks his years of service in the State Senate would especially fit him. Another man who has ambitions in this direction is State Senator A. S. Bennett, of Ohio county.

The Best Beloved.

William Stitt, beadle at Durrissdeer, in Nithsdale, Scotland, was a man of about six feet two inches in height, with broad, heavy shoulders. There had been a succession of ministers during his official career, says a writer in Blackwood's Magazine, among them the Rev. D. Morrison, who was subsequently translated to the Tron church, Edinburgh, a minister of decidedly larger build than his predecessors. One of the farmers in the parish said to the beadle one day:

"Will, you have served under a good many ministers. Which of them all did you like best?"

"Morrison's clo'es fitted me best!" Will replied curtly.

Open Mouthed.

Conceded Actor—You should have seen the audience sitting open mouthed when I was playing Hamlet last night. Critic—It must be dreadful to see an entire audience all yawning at once!

What a strange scene if the surge of conversation could suddenly ebb like a tide and show us the real state of people's minds!—Scott.

"When Knighthood Was In Flower."

The above play at the Grand tonight should be greeted by a packed house. The writer is in a position to know that it is a splendid company, carrying a full compliment of scenery, mechanical and electrical effects. The play was last seen here five years ago, when Miss Effie Ellsler played the part of "Mary Tudor," the Princess of England. Miss Anna Day, who assumes the role tonight, is said by those who have seen her to be, if anything, superior to Miss Ellsler in the part. She has the advantage of being several years younger, and has beauty, grace and charming stage appearance. Her conception of the part of the strong-willed Princess captures her audience from the start, and notwithstanding it is a five-act play, the audience does not tire. Messrs. Sweetly and Shipman have several strong attractions on the road, but for scenic mounting, costuming and general excellence none of them can compare with "When Knighthood Was In Flower."

It should not be said that an attraction of the merits of this one should come to Paris and play to a poor audience. Reserve your seats this morning at Oberdorfer's.

Always remember we don't follow we lead and stand abreast with the line of progress.

Nienaber-Roche Nuptials.

The wedding of Mr. J. B. J. Nienaber, of Louisville, and Miss Margaret Frances Roche of this city, was solemnized Tuesday morning at the church of the Annunciation with the very impressive service of the church, the Rev. Father James Cusack performing the ceremony. The church was very elaborately decorated with palms, ferns and yellow and white chrysanthemums and was lighted with yellow candles.

The wedding was the first of the early winter weddings and was brilliant in every detail. Shortly after 10 o'clock Lohengrin's chorus heralded the arrival of the bridal party who entered the center aisle preceded by the ushers, who filed slowly down the side aisle.

First of the bridal party to lead the way was the maid of honor, Miss Jane Kelley, of Covington. She was lovely in white net over white silk, with yoke of Duchess lace. Her white picture hat was becomingly trimmed and she carried a large bunch of yellow chrysanthemums.

Next came the bridesmaid, Miss Loretta Burke, of Covington. She was handsome in white net over white silk and carried a bunch of white chrysanthemums.

Then came the lovely bride on the arm of her brother, Mr. F. F. Roche, who gave her away in marriage. The bride was exquisitely gowned in a French robe of white lace. The veil was caught up with a spray of orange blossoms and pinned with a magnificent diamond sunburst. She carried a huge bouquet of lilies of the valley and brides roses. As the bridal party advanced to the altar the bridegroom, with his best man, Mr. Leis Stetzel, of Louisville, appeared from the vestry room to meet them.

As the beautiful and impressive service was being pronounced by Rev. Father James Cusack, the orchestra played "Call Me Thine Own" and Angel's Serenade, Gounod Avaria. Before the final benediction was pronounced, Miss Mary Rassenfoss sang sweetly a solo from "Cavaleria Rusticana," which, with the accompaniment of violin by Miss Esther Margolen, and cornet by Mr. J. A. Schwartz, was very impressive.

The happy couple left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and received the congratulations of relatives and friends at the lovely home of the bride on Pleasant street, where an elegant wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party and immediate family of the bride and groom.

The dining room was attractively decorated, the large round table beneath a wreath of smilax with streamers of smilax running in regular spaces on the outer edge, was a mass of handsome cut glass dishes and elegant silverware. The soft light from many candles in cut glass candelabra cast their glow over the same as the bridal party gathered around the festive table and ate and drank to the future joy and happiness of the popular couple. The happy pair received more than two hundred rich and costly presents that attested the love and esteem of their many relatives and friends.

The bride is one of Paris' most lovely and charming girls and is the daughter of Mrs. T. F. Roche, and is loved for her many charming graces and accomplishments.

The bridegroom is a popular and successful business man of Louisville and has a large circle of friends.

The happy couple drove to Georgetown, the going away dress of the bride being a handsome suit of dark green broadcloth with hat to match.

They left for Cincinnati and then go for a short stay at New York before embarking for a trip to Cuba. After their return they will be at home at the Galt House, at Louisville.

Dan Connor Receives a Severe Electric Shock.

As D. D. Connor, the well-known transfer man, was entering his stable early Tuesday morning to feed his horses, he reached for the electric light button on inside of door to turn on the lights, when he received a shock of electricity that knocked him senseless from the door into the fourth stall in the stable, right under one of his horses. The horse became frightened and jumped into the manger, where he could not get out having crippled his shoulder, and this alone probably saved Mr. Connor's life, for he lay unconscious in the stall for some time before his employees found him, and he was lying right where the hind feet of the horse would have been if he had not been held fast in the manger. Mr. Connor's hand is severely burned but otherwise he feels no other inconvenience from the shock.

HONESTY

Trust to Nature.

A great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation because they have treated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles of many such people, in fact in every weary, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and lasts long. The demand for nutritive aid is ahead of the supply. To insure perfect health every tissue, bone, nerve and muscle should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. It is necessary to prepare the stomach for the work of taking up from the food what is necessary to make good, rich, red blood. We must go to Nature for the remedy. There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the whites which later came to the knowledge of the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the cure of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found to be safe and yet certain in their cleansing and invigorating effect upon the stomach, liver and blood. These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Slugg root, Bloodroot, Mandrake root. Then there is Black Cherrybark. The medicinal principles residing in these native roots when extracted with glycerine as a solvent make the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver invigorator, when combined in just the right proportions, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Where there is bankrupt vitality—such as nervous exhaustion, bad nutrition—and thin blood, the body acquires vigor and the nerves, blood and all the tissues feel the favorable effect of this sovereign remedy. Although some physicians have been aware of the high medicinal value of the above mentioned plants, yet few have used pure glycerine as a solvent and usually the doctors' prescriptions called for the ingredients in varying amounts, with alcohol.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is a scientific preparation compounded of the glycerine extracts of the above mentioned vegetable ingredients and contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs.

Appeal For the Children.

A touching appeal is being sent out by the Kentucky Children's Home Society of Louisville, for a generous Thanksgiving remembrance. This is a long-established custom of the society, which usually meets with a generous response. This year, however, on account of the recent political campaign and other counter-causes, the society finds itself sorely in need of funds. The expense of accomplishing the rapidly-expanding work and of fulfilling its full duty to the great mass of destitute children of the State, is being greater, and unless the public come to the aid of the institution the work will be greatly hampered this year. Destitute children are coming to the care of the society at the rate of more than 100 a month, and the expense is necessarily great. The society is being asked on every hand to take charge of the orphans and abandoned children from every county in Kentucky, and its policy is not to turn a deaf ear to these entreaties. To continue this work it is necessary to call upon the public for a generous response to this Thanksgiving appeal.

Please address checks or currency to KENTUCKY CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY,

Louisville, Ky.

Fortunate Missourians.

Dwyer, now of Grayville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest cough and cold cure and throat and lung healer. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer, the druggist. 50c and 1.00. ### Dangers of Defective Plumbing!

Defective plumbing permits the entrance into the house of sewer gas bearing germs of contagious disease to which the human system readily succumbs. Sewer gas is not necessarily generated in the sewer, but is frequently created in the plumbing system within the home and enters the apartments through defective fixtures. If in doubt consult us regarding the piping and repairing defective fixtures with "STANDARD" Porcelain Enamelled Ware, acknowledged as the best sanitary equipment.

Our Washington Letter.

BY EARL W. MAYO.

WASHINGTON, November 24.—Is there anyone in this broad country who will brave the fate of the king in the opera "Wang," and take four elephants off the hands of Uncle Sam? For Uncle Sam is experiencing a doubtful pride of ownership of four big pachyderms, and he knows full well now the state of mind of the light-opera king was in when he sang plaintively: "Oh, the elephant ate all night. And the elephant ate all day. Till every cent of his income went To keep the beast in hay. He envied the lot of the Hottentot On Africa's barren sands: He swore like mad because he had The elephant on his hands."

The four big beasts were seized this week by the Treasury agents on the ground that they were brought into the country on too low a valuation. Their owner, Thompson, some months ago brought them from abroad, valued them at $6,000, paid the duty and was happy. Later, he took them into Canada, where they were exhibited, and when he came back to the United States with the beasts he declared they had shrunk in value from $6,000 to $2,300. A few days ago the Treasury officials learned he was about to dispose of the herd for $10,000. Down they swooped on Thompson and his pets, and seized the latter. Now they wish they hadn't, for the animals are piling up the national debt by reason of their appetites. To use the language of the official report made to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Reynolds, each beast is consuming "six bales of timothy per diem." The distress signal is hoisted above the Treasury building on Pennsylvania avenue. Isn't there some kindly disposed person in the land whose love of animals will lead him to adopt this herd as house pets?

But the elephants do not furnish the only problem the Treasury is compelled to face this week. A new counterfeit $10 "buffalo" United States note has made its appearance. The counterfeit is apparently a photo-lithographic production, printed on two pieces of paper with silk fiber distributed between them. It is dangerous, but it can be detected readily when handled with the genuine bills, because of the color of the back, which is a dark bluish green. So far as the numbering and ornamental work is concerned the bill is an excellent reproduction. The Secret Service has the matter in hand, and is hard at work trying to run down the "plant" where the note is manufactured. It is not known definitely just how many of the counterfeits are in circulation.

Gen. Alexander MacKenzie, chief of engineers, turned in his annual report this week to the chief of War, in which he declares that $16,052,431 will be required to complete the engineering work on the fortifications projected by the board convened under the President's order of last January. In addition General MacKenzie declares that in the opinion of government engineers the sum of $6,088,300 may be expended profitably on certain rivers and harbors improvements. This adds to the outlay of more than $300,000,000 already recommended by the Engineer Department as necessary for the improvement of the rivers and harbors of the country. Probably no other ranch of government work has been so neglected as this. Although government experts have urged, year in and year out, which is of such vast importance to the growing commerce of the country. A determined effort is to be made at the coming session to have the annual appropriation fixed at $50,000,000, so that the work mapped out by the government engineers may be undertaken. The advocates of this plan will be heard here December 6 and 7, when the convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress meets in the Arlington Hotel assembly room. The question is non-partisan and non-political and has the heartiest endorsement of President Roosevelt.

Quentin, the youngest son of President Roosevelt, who shot himself into public notice this week by reason of a school-room prank. He is a pupil in a public school on Massachusetts avenue, and one morning the teacher was striving to impress on the youthful minds of students the evils of overindulgence in certain beverages.

"All those who drink coffee at their breakfast may stand," she said. A large number arose to their feet. "Now all those who drink tea, either in the morning or evening, may rise." Again part of the class arose. Just at this moment the teacher was summing from the room. Scarcely had the door closed behind her, when Quentin jumped to the front, held up his hand for silence and with mock dignity, said:

"All those who take champagne at their lunch may now stand on their heads."

He went back to his seat the picture of innocence, when the young school-ma'am returned.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis' Will.

The will of Mrs. Varina Jefferson Davis, wife of the President of the Confederate States, was filed Monday for probate at Vicksburg, Miss. The will leaves to Mrs. Davis' daughter, Mr. Margaret Howell Davis Hayes, of Colorado Springs, Colorado, all of her estate with the exception of $10,000 life insurance. This sum is divided into numerous small bequests.

WAYS OF THE TOAD.

Some of the Oddities of This Peculiar Creature.

It is remarkable that the toad, loving water as it does, should wander away from watery regions to dry ground, where it can never see a drop of water except at rain time and leave its water rights to the undisputed possession of its rural neighbor the frog. How the toad loves water must be known to every garden lover. Whenever there is a shower the creature leaves its cool retreat under the piazza or shed and stands as far as its fore legs will let it, erect in the rain, apparently enjoying to the utmost the shower bath.

Whenever they are near the water at breeding time they deposit long, slimy strings of eggs, and the young toad has to go through the tadpole stage in common with his brother frog. But when they are wholly excluded by distance from the water they seem to have the power of being viviparous, or bringing forth their young alive. In the water fertilization is effected in the same manner as in fishes, but the method in the land life career is not known. About all that is known is that confined toads are found with little toads, no larger than house flies, about them after a time, and in walled gardens and places far removed from water little toads, no larger than peas, wandering around on their own resources and which could never have been tadpoles, are within common experience.

MARY CAMPBELL.

The Lassie Who Was the Original of "Highland Mary."

The original of "Highland Mary" was Mary Campbell, a highland lassie who was a servant at Castle Montgomery, with whom Burns became acquainted during his residence at Mossgiel. To her he addressed the lines, "Will ye go to the Indies, my Mary?" and many others. In a note to one of his poems on Mary, Burns says: "After a pretty long time of the most ardent reciprocal feeling we met by appointment on the second Sunday of May in a sequestered spot by the banks of the Ayr, where we spent a day in talking a farewell before she should embark for the west highlands to arrange matters among her friends for our projected change of life. At the close of the autumn following she crossed the sea to meet me at Greenock, where she had scarce landed when she was seized with a malignant fever, which hurried my dear girl to her grave before I could even hear of her illness." The love which Burns felt for Mary Campbell appears to have been deeper than any he ever felt before or after. Years later, when he was married and had a family, her memory inspired the pathetic lines "To Mary in Heaven," which breathe the soul of tender melancholy.—London Tit-Bits.

The Earth's Insides.

Is the earth made up of three concentric spheres? A physician says that such is the case. The solid nucleus he supposes to be between 3,000 and 7,000 miles in diameter, and this is surrounded by a liquid substratum, outside of which is the crust, variously estimated at 70 to 200 miles in thickness. More than two centuries ago a similar theory, including the slow rotation of the inner solid sphere on a different axis from that of the entire globe, was held by Dr. Edmund Halley to account for the changes in the earth's magnetism. The axis of the nucleus was thought to have been originally that of the entire globe, and to the change of its course was attributed the deluge. The earth's internal heat, it is now pointed out, may be accounted for by the friction of the different rotating bodies.

Bad Importations.

Englishmen introduced the rabbit to Australia, where it ruined vast areas of valuable land. Weasels sent to correct the mistake found ground birds good eating and let the rabbits alone. Scotsmen bestowed the thistle upon New Zealand and then wished they hadn't. A pretty water weed of which Englishmen are fond was transplanted to New Zealand and throve so that it dams broad rivers. The mongoose sent to Jamaica to kill off the cane rats exterminated them and developed a fine liking for poultry.

"It Suits to a T."

The clause, "It suits to a T," meaning it fits exactly, is as old as the familiar instrument, the T square or T rule (so called from its resemblance to the letter T), used by mechanics and draftsmen for making angles true and for obtaining perpendiculars. The expression was in common use in the time of Dr. Johnson, who is quoted by Boswell as saying of Wharburton, "You see they'd have fitted him to a T."

The Changing Frenchman.

There was a time when having to cross the frontiers of his native land was regarded by a Frenchman as the greatest hardship he could undergo. Today he is the rival of the Anglo-Saxon where love of travel and adventure are concerned.—Paris Figaro.

Sure of His Umbrella.

Departing Guest—Dear me, what a wet night! I wonder if you could give me the loan of an umbrella? Host—Certainly, but—well, the fact is, I think I would be the better for a walk. I'll just take a turn home with you and shelter you by the way.

Bright Boy.

"Can you stand on your head?" asked a visitor of little Dudley.

"No," he replied. "It's too high up."

To grief there is a limit; not so to fear.—Pliny the Younger.

At the Grand Tonight.

The play "When Knighthood Was in Flower," affords great opportunity for lavishness in scenery settings, properties and costumes, and every advantage of the many openings along this line has been taken by Ernest Shipman, by whom the play is being produced this season, with the result that it is one of the most gorgeously equipped in the country. From the standpoint of scenic investigation alone it is well worth seeing, but when the company producing it here is taken into consideration and thought over, he who misses an opportunity of seeing it must needs have very urgent business.

Taking No Chances.

An epileptic dropped in a fit on the streets of Boston not long ago, and was taken to a hospital. Upon removing his coat there was found pinned to his waistcoat a slip of paper on which was written:

"SAVED MY LIFE"

—That's what a prominent druggist said of Scott's Emulsion a short time ago. As a rule we don't use or refer to testimonials in addressing the public, but the above remark and similar expressions are made so often in connection with Scott's Emulsion that they are worthy of occasional note. From infancy to old age Scott's Emulsion offers a reliable means of remedying improper and weak development, restoring lost flesh and vitality, and repairing waste. The action of Scott's Emulsion is no more of a secret than the composition of the Emulsion itself. What it does it does through nourishment—the kind of nourishment that cannot be obtained in ordinary food. No system is too weak or delicate to retain Scott's Emulsion and gather good from it.

We will send you a sample free.

Ross, where they were married. Miss Barnes had signed her father's name to a certificate, obtaining the license. Her father finally found them and with her mother went to Owingsville Saturday night. ### Railroads are Ready to Cut the "Melon."

The railroads of the entire country stand ready to accept the standard of wages set by the Pennsylvania and to grant their employes an increase of 10 per cent. in lieu of all other demands. The "melon" which the railroads are willing to cut and to distribute among more than 1,296,000 employes would aggregate between $1,000,000 and $82,000,000 annually. This sum the roads are ready to give the large army of employes, provided the latter will accept it and cease for the time being any further demands for increases in all branches of the railway service.

Several railway magnates have already taken action in the matter and have decided to grant them increase if the matter can be arranged amicably with their employes.

The magnitude of the concession to labor is understood when it is stated that the increase will amount to a dividend of nearly 4 per cent on all the capital stock of the entire railroad systems of the country and to nearly 7 per cent of the amount of dividends declared and paid on that stock for the year 1935.

There has not been concerted action on the part of the railroads but the question of increase in wages has been the subject of discussion in many meetings which have been held among the Western presidents and executive officials at Chicago and among the Eastern men at New York.

POWER OF PERFUMES.

The Way Various Scents Act on the Nerves and Brains.

Nearly all perfumes have antiseptic qualities and are valuable in keeping away infection.

The perfumes which are the most agreeable to the sense are not always the most helpful to the nerves. Ambergris, for instance, is positively offensive to many, yet it is said to possess a wonderful power of clearing the brain and driving away the blues. On the other hand, attar of roses, with the suggestion of glowing suns and gorgeous eastern colors, predisposes to tears.

A faint odor of musk acts as a tonic, for which the best antidote is the odor of sandalwood. The fragrance of citron is as soothing to nervous folk as the sound of faroff music.

The scent of orange flowers is so depressing to the action of the heart that it is not safe for any one with disease of that organ to inhale it for any length of time. Reviving perfumes come from herbaceous plants largely, from the odors of mignonette, rosemary and lavender, and soothe the nerves.

The perfumes of lilies, jasmine and acacia are pleasant and soothing to a healthy sense, though delicate nerves cannot enjoy them even in their garden freshness. Brought closer in clusters of blossom, their odor is narcotic and depressing, so that persons grow faint at the smell of them and may be put into heavy slumber, as if drugged by their odor.—London Express.

SIMPLE MEDICINES.

Remedies That May Be Found in Nature's Drug Stores.

If chemists and druggists disappeared from the face of the earth humanity could still worry along with the simple remedies which nature yields, practically ready made. There is nothing to beat rhubarb juice as a cure for gout or rheumatism except water from medicinal springs. All kinds of scurvy and blood poisoning yield to the juice of lemon or of limes, which are the greatest blood purifiers in existence. Even doctors acknowledge that natural, fresh cream from cows' milk can give points to cod liver oil and similar nasty liquids in treating consumption. Common mustard used as a plaster or poultice is the best cure for a cold on the chest, and the white of an egg with sugar is the finest medicine for hoarseness. To cure a burn an application of the white skin that lines the shell of an egg is unbeatable, while the raw yolk is a capital tonic. In fact, gardens and roadsides are full of herbs of which the juice or leaves afford remedies or palliatives for almost every disease to which humanity is heir.—New York Mail.

Luminous Centipede.

Lizard, snake and natural electric light plant all rolled into one—this is the luminous centipede, one of the most interesting creatures in nature. It is about one and a quarter inches long and covered with short hairs. Its body is very narrow and appears to be in sections. In consequence of this peculiar formation the creature appears to move sideways except when frightened. Then the natural electric light plant feature appears, and, with an almost instantaneous wavelike motion, beginning at the tail, the color of the reptile changes from orange to a greenish phosphorescent shade. Then, sparkling with a tiny streak of green light, the creature darts away to a place of refuge. When one of the pair is in search of its mate, the color grows a bright yellow, but at will the centipede can resume its darker color, and then, if lying close to the grain of a piece of wood, is hardly noticeable.

The Word "Canteen."

A strange etymological history is that possessed by the word "canteen"—which has caused so much talk in temperance and army circles—if its origin is correctly assigned to the old Latin "quintana," which literally means "of the fifth rank" or "fifth in order." The "quintana (via)" was a street in the Roman camp so called because it came between the fifth maniples, or company, and the sixth. Here all the business and marketing of the camp were done, and "quintana" eventually came to mean a market.—Chicago News.

Simplified.

It is said of a noted Virginia judge that in a pinch he always came out ahead. An incident of his childhood might go to prove this.

"Well, Benny," said his father when the lad had been going to school about a month, "what did you learn today?"

"About the mouse, father."

"Spell mouse."

After a little pause Benny answered: "Father, I don't believe it was a mouse after all. It was a rat."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Sydney Smith's Sharp Tongue.

Sydney Smith was at a party one evening when, seeing Mrs. Grote, wife of the historian, enter, wearing a rose colored turban, he suddenly exclaimed, "I now know the meaning of the word grotesque!" He professed his cordial liking for both her and her husband, saying: "I like them. I like him, he is so ladylike, and I like her, she's such a perfect gentleman."

English Art.

Foreigners appear to have great difficulty in acquiring representative examples of the English school of painting and with good reason. Our art is more fruitful in attractive hybrids than the art of any other country in the world.—Burlington Magazine.

A man is never mediocre who has much good sense and much good feeling.—Joubert.
